

Full Moon Interhowl Pub Crawl

Brought to you by KL Full Moon Hash

12th September 2018

This year the annual Pub Crawl was organized in conjunction with the Mother Hash's 80th birthday celebrations and so it attracted a large number of thirsty souls.

The run was based at the LOCO bar in Changkat Bukit Bintang and was splendidly organized by the GM, Kamikaze and his team of dedicated drinkers.

Registration opened at 3 pm and so there was plenty of time to have a few bevies before the 'run' started.

Registration was efficiently handled by Emilia, Sandra and Aileen, who collected the fee and dispensed the freebie tee shirts.

While waiting for the start there was plenty of time for posing.....

This turned out to be from the back of a truck.

But there were some complaints about the amount of beer that was served!

Promptly at 5 pm the pack was called to order by Kamikaze and the hare, Rajesh.

Meticulous instructions were dished out.

Of course, several charges were dished out for some reason that I can't remember.

Others were having a real ball!

And soon we set off, eagerly anticipating the first beer stop.

The trail then took us past the picturesque Jamek mosque, which sadly was shrouded in mosquito spray that precluded decent photos!

Our next stop was upstairs at the For Fork's Sake bistro at the central market.

Of course, several more charges were made.

With down-down songs provided by Wild Boar.

Johan's penile transplant appears to have gone wrong!

We soon set off for the next beer stop at the Royal Selangor Club where Hashing began 80 years ago.

Here there was plenty of opportunity for more posing.

While our GM tried to sort out the chaos!

The string of charges continued...

I know not what for!

We then set off for the final drinks stop, again out of the back of a truck.

By now the light was beginning to fade, but our thirst was un-abated.

Here, the charges included a couple of people who were swept up off the street and were introduced to Hashing.

From here we raced back to the LOCO bar for yet more beer!

While our messiah was overseeing all!

We continued with the final round of charges...

That included the GM – on ice!

And that was pretty much it!

Many thanks indeed to the organizers for another splendid event.
